

Art

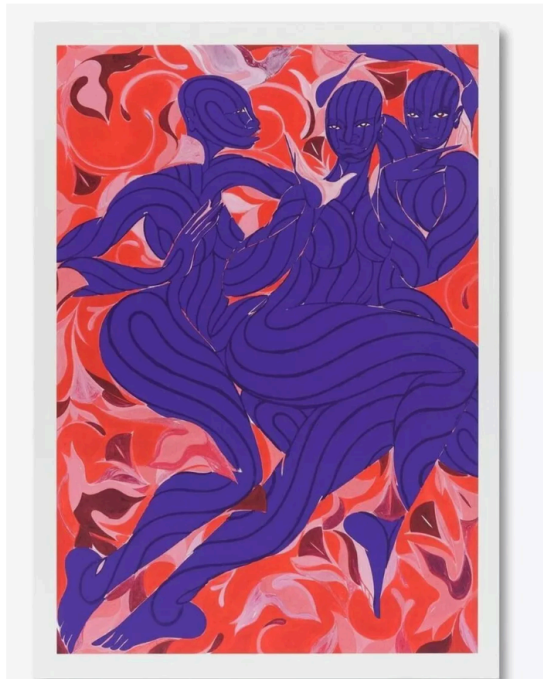

9 Contemporary Artists Mastering Maximalist Patterns

Jordan Huelskamp

May 15, 2024 10:23AM

Amir H. Fallah
Urn, 2022
Nazarian / Curcio
Price on request

Tunji Adeniyi-Jones
Violet Dance, 2021
Baldwin Contemporary
£2,200

Megan Williamson

B. 1960, Chicago. Lives and works in Chicago.

Megan Williamson
Still Life with Four Patterns, 2011
BOOM Contemporary
US$3,750

Megan Williamson paints delightfully cacophonous still lifes that collapse common objects like furniture, vases, and stationery into flat planes of Fauvist colors and repeating patterns. "Painting a still life is a very specific way of seeing," the artist wrote about her current exhibition with Boom Contemporary. "I look closely at my subject with attention and hope. I want to respond to what is in front of me while also looking for what will be revealed."